Meeting Your Organization's Needs ...

The global marketplace continues to provide expanding opportunities — and increasingly, organizations need to move key executives and other professionals to locations throughout the world. An essential element in a successful transfer and the successful completion of an assignment is the peace of mind provided to expatriate employees and their family members.

A World of Superior Features and Benefits ...

The ExtraPro Plan, the first insurance offering of its kind in the industry, provides an array of key benefits and superior features:

Peace of Mind Most of your employees clearly understand the importance of insuring their personal belongings — evidenced by their choosing to be covered even in the relative safety of their own homes. Given the choice and opportunity, many employees certainly would choose to insure their household goods while on foreign assignment as well.

Broader Coverage Coverages offered under this policy are generally broader than those available in a policy issued at the foreign destination — and your employees gain the advantage of several coverages packaged under a single policy.

Convenience and Flexibility Employees facing an expatriate experience can select appropriate coverages before leaving the home country — rather than dealing with the unnecessary distraction of trying to find and arrange protection at the foreign destination.

Recognized Leaders This protection package is offered by UniGroup Worldwide through a partnering affiliation with the leading names in international insurance — Willis Corroon Transportation Risk Services, Vanliner Insurance Company, Lloyd's of London, the Chubb Group of Insurance Companies and American International Group (AIG).

Global Servicing The partnering alliance, with combined servicing experience of more than 200 years, provides access to a global network of support offices and repair firms in over 75 countries around the globe.

Individual Policy Every employee receives an individual insurance policy consistent with his/her own domestic insurance program.

English Language For greater comprehension, each policy is written in English so that terms and conditions are more familiar and understandable.

U.S. Dollars Policy limits are expressed in U.S. dollars, and payments are also made in U.S. dollars.
